AMERICANS GAIN EIGHT MILES THROUGH CHINESE LINES

EGYPTIANS IN ANTI-FOREIGN FRENZY TODAY

BRITISH, AMERICAN FIRMS ARE STONED

Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 10.—(P)—A wild crowd armed with stones and clubs surged through the downtown streets of Cairo today, attacking western business houses in a frenzy of anti-foreign rioting.

The outbreak sprang from Prime Minister Mustapha El Nahas Pasha's denunciation of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty and his bid to chase all British troops off Egyptian soil.

The rest of the Arab world meanwhile joined Egypt in full support behind his plans to drive Britain out of its Suez Canal enclaves and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

They also stoned and attempted to storm the big Immobilia buildings in the heart of Cairo. The two buildings, constructed around an open court, house a number of American and British business offices.

The assault against the Immobilia buildings was touched off by someone who threw a firecracker or some other explosive from an Immobilia balcony into a crowd of demonstrators marching in orderly fashion below.

No one was injured by the explosive but its loud roar infuriated the crowd.

It swarmed into the courtyard, heaving stones. Several men wielding clubs attempted to force an entrance. They failed to get in and the crowd of several hundred dispersed.

The Immobilia contains offices of a number of American firms, including the Associated Press and the Superior Oil Company. The British-sponsored Arab News Agency and the big British Imperial Chemical Industries have offices there.

A few minutes after the crowd broke away from the buildings, an excited group of young Egyptians, accompanied by two policemen, knocked on the bolted door of the AP office.

They demanded an office messenger by name and the police marched off with him.

Furniture, equipment and machinery was destroyed at the offices of the British Thomson Houston Company and the French firm "L'Air Liquide." Books and papers were used for a bonfire.

The crowds attacked two trucks, one carrying Coca-Cola, the other Pepsi-Cola. They turned one truck over and grabbed bottles to use as missiles.

FISH BEDS DAMAGED BY RECENT DROUGHTS

Harrisburg, Oct. 10.—(P)—The recent lack of rain has caused extensive damage to Pennsylvania's fish streams, the State Fish Commission says.

"In some areas streams are reduced to mere trickles while in a few cases entire streams are dry," said C. A. French, executive director of the commission.

He made the statement yesterday after completing a tour of the streams in the northern counties of the state.

French cited findings by Fish Commission biologists and fish wardens that not only fish but the small organisms feeding them at the bottom of the streams have been affected.

"Fall and spring rains will probably restore these streams," he said, "but the loss of the fish-food organisms is serious as the cycle of development of this aquatic life is relatively slow and it will take time to replace this depleted food crop."

He's Looking Now At His Gruesome Jailers

Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 10.—(P)—Who says you can't arrest a man for looking? Robert L. Browning, 39, was held on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday. Mrs. Jaquette Sather, 24, complained he stared at her for 20 minutes at a time.

He came into the liquor store where she works and just sat and looked. She asked him to stop. Then he drove by, gazing through binoculars, she said.

Slim Mrs. Sather has green eyes, honey colored hair. Police quoted Browning: "I just couldn't help looking at her. She fascinated me."

Reserve Division Is Praised as Officers Conduct Inspection

Members of Jamestown's Organized Surface Division 3-68, under the command of Lt. Sidney W. Blackman of Warren, went through a rigid inspection by Naval officers from Washington, D. C., last night in national competition for the James V. Forrestal Trophy.

While the results of last night's inspection will not be announced until shortly after the first of next year, commendation was given by the visiting inspection group assured officers and men they will be rated "among the best" of the 12 Naval districts of this country and Hawaii.

The privilege of competing for the Forrestal Trophy was earned by Surface Division 3-68 last spring when it received the top place rating in the Third Naval District, beating 87 other units of New York, Connecticut and northern New Jersey.

Inspecting personnel arrived in Jamestown yesterday morning to review the records, personnel and facilities of the training center during the afternoon. Last night, the team first inspected personnel, rating appearance, condition of uniform, ratings, etc., after which officers looked over the classrooms to rate both instructors and men.

Captain L. T. Stone headed the inspection party, while Captain J. B. Renn and Captain D. D. Hawkins represented Rear Admiral Walter S. DeLaney, commandant of the Third Naval District.

Speaking to the men at final quarters, Captain Stone stated, "You look as good as any division we have inspected so far," and Captain Hawkins, the district director of training, added, "I have waited a year and a half to see this, and now I know it can be done. I shall personally see that the admiral hears of it."

FBI GETS HALL FROM MEXICAN AUTHORITIES

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 10.—(P)—Gus Hall, one of four top U. S. Communist bail jumpers, was turned over to the FBI here at 3 a. m. today by four men who appeared to be Mexican officers, a Laredo newspaperman reported.

The newsmen, Tom Green of the Laredo Times, said he watched five men in an old model four-door Plymouth sedan with Mexican license plates drive across International Bridge here. He said one of the men was Hall. The other men "appeared to be Mexican officers," he said.

FBI and local police refused to comment on a report from J. Edgar Hoover in Washington that Hall had been arrested. Hoover said in his announcement early this morning that the national secretary of the Communist party would be sent to jail at once. He didn't say where.

ROYAL COUPLE ACCLAIMED IN OTTAWA VISIT

PRINCESS AND DUKE GET ROYAL WELCOME

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—(P)—Princess Elizabeth and her consort arrived in this flag-draped Canadian capital today, cheered by happy throngs.

Under sunny skies, the princess and the Duke of Edinburgh alighted from the royal train at 10 o'clock. A specially prepared railway siding was brilliant in red, white and blue decorations.

The royal couple, beginning a two-day visit here, were greeted officially by Governor-General Vincent Alexander and his lady and by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and his wife. Also on hand to welcome them was Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa, only woman mayor of a major Canadian city.

A 21-gun salute from a four-gun Royal Canadian artillery battery heralded their arrival.

Later at Lansdowne Park, 13,000 Ottawa school children gave the Princess the loudest and shrillest welcome yet. As Mayor Whitton presented the keys of the city to the Princess, three-year-old Sheila Hamilton, daughter of an alderman, handed the royal guest a nosegay bouquet of sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots.

The noise of the cheering so confused the little girl that she burst into tears before completing the ceremony.

At the railway siding members of the federal cabinet, high diplomats and military chiefs were sent to the royal couple. The princess' color scheme was air force blue, with black hat, gloves, shoes and purse.

Tonight the royal couple will attend a state dinner at Government House with the Governor-General presiding. It is described as the most important function of the Canadian tour.

Youngsville School Students Learn Election Procedure By Use of the Voting Machines

COMMISSIONERS SEE NAMING OF OFFICERS

In something new for Warren county schools, students of Youngsville high and junior high schools held an election for class officers yesterday, using Youngsville's new voting machines at the city building to name their choices. An estimated 350 students cast ballots for the 78 candidates for office.

Preparatory to the official election, each candidate was required to circulate a petition and secure 10 signatures of qualified electors. These petitions were filed at a 3:30 p. m. deadline, Friday, and were cross-checked to determine that there was no duplication. Then the names of the qualified candidates were posted.

Following the balloting yesterday, in which various classes went to the polls during the day, officers were elected. In the following order of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, they are:

For the Seniors: Kenneth Gannoe, Stuart Bailey, Joan McAllister, with a tie for treasurer between Frisella Ransom and Ted Hackman. A method of settling the tie will be worked out later.

For the Juniors: Donald Kirk, Carol Haller, Irma Carlson and John Kwiatkowski.

For the Sophomores: James Spear, Donald Nyberg, Ardell Johnson and Jean Samuelson.

For the Freshmen: Dennis Engstrom, Elwood Brooks, Shirley Egbert and Richard Culver.

Eighth grade: Joe Carol Davis, Billy Carlett, Judy Halfast, and Debby Engstrom.

Seventh grade: James Smith, Doris Dale, Frank Gruttaria and Louise Barton.

Promotion for the idea came from James Cable, Orville Borton and Charles Paul, social studies teachers, with the thought of teaching students the machinery of regular elections. Use of the voting machines was arranged by County Commissioners George Seavy, L. L. Johnson and William Olney, who were present yesterday to assist in the balloting.

The three teachers in charge, together with Supervising Principal Paul Getts and High School Principal E. C. Stillings, acted as an official election board.

HANOVER PUBLISHER, SHOE MAN, IS DEAD

Hanover, Oct. 10.—(P)—Harper D. Sheppard, Hanover publisher, shoe manufacturer and banker, died in Hanover General Hospital today. He was 83 yesterday.

Sheppard was co-founder, chairman of the board and former president of Hanover Shoe, Inc. He was also president of the Hanover Evening Sun Co., the Hanover Trust Co., and Sheppard-Myers, Inc.

He was a native of Pitt county and started in business in ranching in the southwest and then came to Hanover in 1899. With C. N. Myers he organized the Hanover Shoe Co.

Funeral services will be held Friday. He is survived by two sons, Lawrence B. and R. Harper Sheppard.

SITE CHOSEN, RESUMPTION IS EXPECTED

NO TIME SET FOR OPENING OF TALKS

Munsan, Korea, Oct. 10.—(P)—Liaison officers today picked a site near Panmunjom for resuming Korean truce talks.

The spot is six air miles southeast of Kaesong where cease-fire negotiations first began three months ago today. The talks were broken off by the Reds August 23.

Another meeting of Allied and Red liaison officers at Panmunjom was scheduled for 10 a. m. tomorrow.

There was no immediate announcement of when the armistice delegations would re-open their talks or even whether the time had been set.

Preparations for a meeting of the full delegations were pressed rapidly. The United Nations truce team assembled in Korea. Allied service personnel went to Kaesong to move equipment left there to the new site.

Everything indicated the U. N. command expected an early resumption of full-scale efforts to end the shooting in Korea.

Wednesday's burst of activity started with Communist acceptance of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's proposal that liaison officers meet at Panmunjom to arrange for renewal of negotiations.

The Reds' note of acceptance was delivered at 8 a. m. at Panmunjom. Two hours later six liaison officers began their conference.

They met for two hours and 25 minutes. At that time they walked half a mile southeast to a bridge where they spent half an hour taking notes.

They mapped an open air site near the bridge. The choice of liaison officers is a recommendation which must be approved by higher echelons of both commands.

The spot is some eight miles by road southeast of Kaesong and 13 road miles northwest of Munsan, United Nations Command advance headquarters.

SOFT DRINK TRUCKS ATTACKED IN CAIRO

Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 10.—(P)—Shouting rioters attacked offices and trucks of western businesses in Cairo today and tried to burn them in a demonstration of support for the government's move to oust British forces from the Suez Canal area and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Two trucks, one carrying Coca-Cola and the other Pepsi-Cola, were overturned by a crowd which tried to set them afire. Several other soft drink trucks were attacked.

The mob also started a blaze in the office of a British machinery firm in downtown Cairo and a fire brigade was summoned.

Police reinforcements rushed to the scene of the riots but the demonstrators refused to obey orders to disperse.

SOLDIER BROTHERS BURIED IN ARKANSAS

Batesville, Ark., Oct. 10.—(P)—Two young brothers, who grew up together and died together in battle, were buried side-by-side in a little North Arkansas cemetery yesterday.

While 1,500 sorrowing relatives and friends looked on, Privates First Class Melvin Barnett, 20, and John Richard Barnett, 19, were laid to rest with military honors near the tiny farming community of Sandtown, where they were reared.

The brothers were killed in action with the First Cavalry Division in Korea last March. It may be the first instance in the Korean conflict in which two brothers were killed in the same action.

CAR DESTROYED IN FIRE AT COLE HILL

Chief Pat Ferrie and about 20 men of the Russell Volunteer Fire Department made a fast run about eight o'clock last night, when Gilbert Lauffenberger's 1942 Packard caught fire near his home on the Cole Hill road.

Lauffenberger told the firemen the machine backfired while it was being pushed to start the motor. It was almost entirely destroyed, firemen saving the tires and front end of the vehicle.

Scientist Promises Green Rain in Japan

Tokyo, Oct. 10.—(P)—Green rain will fall late this month 185 miles west of Tokyo. That's a promise from a scientist.

The Kansai Power Company's reservoirs are low in Fukui, Toyama and Nagano prefectures.

The company has hired Dr. Sunesaburo Asada, doctor of science at Osaka University, to send clouds over the Toyama area with dry ice or silver iodide crystals as an experiment.

Dr. Asada will tuck in the green—just by way of proving the rain is his.

Field, Stream Club Condemns Rubbish Dumps Along Roads

Dumping of rubbish along country roads was emphatically condemned by members of the Warren Field and Stream club when they jammed Irvindale School to overflowing at the group's monthly meeting, Tuesday night.

A brief business session was presided over by Club President Don Taft, after which several reels of movies were shown. These films were "Last Wilderness," "Bows and Arrows," and "The Jeep Herder." The last named picture depicted the management of a modern cattle ranch.

It was reported that a resolution, adopted by the club last month, asking for an earlier squirrel season, had been approved by the Warren County Council of Sportsmen and also by the nine-county Northwestern Division of the State Sportsmen's Federation. It will now go before the state federation meeting at Harrisburg, Saturday, where Warren County Delegate Don Curtis is expected to lead a fight to have it approved.

Present squirrel season starts November 1 and extends through November 30. The sportsmen want the season to extend from October 15 through November 15.

The club also is concerned over the thoughtless practice of dumping rubbish along country roads. A committee named to see what could be done about the situation reported that there are already sufficient laws on the books prohibiting this practice, but that more study was needed to work out a practical system of enforcement.

Reports also were made on the successful Field Days held by the club at Wilder Field last month, and a motion was approved to renew the local organization's affiliation with the State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

BAD AXE STANLEY ADVERTISES IN VAIN

Bad Axe, Mich., Oct. 10.—(P)—Stanley Novak's bid for freedom—via advertising—apparently is a failure.

Novak, 30, is serving a 30-day jail sentence here for being drunk and disorderly. He couldn't pay a fine and costs of $44.10.

He has been arrested 18 times, police records show, but still hasn't acquired an affection for jail. So he put an ad in a weekly newspaper:

"Notice—I'm in the county jail for being drunk. If any one will pay my fine for $40 I will work it out to their satisfaction. Stanley Novak."

So far, Novak has received only two replies, neither offering aid.

ROSES WITHER

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—Millionsaire showman Billy Rose and his wife, Eleanor Holm, have separated and a divorce is in the offing, the New York Journal American said today.

The couple had not been seen together in the usual Broadway night spots since Joyce Mathews, former wife of TV comic Milton Berle, attempted suicide July 15 in Rose's penthouse apartment.

TANK THRUST SENDS ENEMY INTO RETREAT

MAY END FIGHT ON HEARTBREAK RIDGE

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 10.—(P)—Fifty American tanks led thousands of U. S. infantrymen on a surprise attack today that smashed eight miles through Chinese lines in eastern Korea.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, in a surprise visit to the front, expressed hope the raid "will be the end of the Heartbreak Ridge fighting."

Green Chinese troops turned and ran in the face of the armored thrust.

The surprise drive carried the raiding Americans past Mundung, 23 miles north of the 38th parallel and two miles west of Heartbreak Ridge.

The raiders sent the Chinese "running in all directions."

Elsewhere on the front Americans fought fierce 1,000-man Red counterattacks and hacked out small gains of their own in two sectors.

The tank-infantry task force returned to its own lines by nightfall after slashing up a valley alongside Heartbreak Ridge. It caught green Chinese troops by surprise as the Reds moved into the front to relieve North Koreans.

"This is very good medicine to welcome them to the front," said Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander. "I hope it will be the end of the Heartbreak Ridge fighting."

The tanks rumbled up a river bed trail prepared in advance by American engineers. A full regiment of infantrymen—about 3,750 men and officers—flanked the tanks.

A smaller second division tank-infantry force shot up Heartbreak bunkers from Sata Valley east of the ridge.

U. S. Second Division infantrymen on the ridges ran into fierce resistance to the east, but captured two hills west of the valley. A counterattack by 1,000 Chinese forced the 38th regiment to withdraw from one mountain on Kim Il Sung Ridge near Heartbreak.

Attacking units of the 23rd regiment were stopped cold on a small ridge west of the northern tip of Heartbreak.

BRAVE MOTHER DIES SAVING 4 CHILDREN

New York, Oct. 10.—(P)—One by one, a Brooklyn mother dropped her children three stories into a blanket held by neighbors yesterday as fire destroyed their apartment building.

Then she collapsed and died in the flames before help could reach her.

Mrs. Irma Randall, 35-year-old negro, shouted to passersby when she discovered the fire. Then she calmly tossed out the blanket, followed by the children, aged 13 months to eight years.

But the blanket was too flimsy for her to risk a jump, and the flames kept a neighbor from reaching her. Firemen arrived with a ladder too late.

Only one of her children was hurt.

APPROVE JUDGESHIP FOR EASTERN PENNA.

Washington, Oct. 10.—(P)—Among the 16 district court judgeships approved by the senate yesterday was one for eastern Pennsylvania.

The bill was passed on a voice vote and now goes to the house for action.

One section provided that if a vacancy shall occur in the middle district of Pennsylvania while the incumbent "roving" judge appointed for the eastern, middle and western districts is serving, then such "roving" judge shall become a district judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania to all the vacancy which occurs.

PERON TO QUIT

Buenos Aires, Oct. 10.—(P)—The Argentine Congress is expected to approve quickly a bill permitting President Juan D. Peron to step out of office until after the Nov. 11 elections.

He sent a surprise message to congress yesterday, calling it into session on Thursday to name an acting president. He said he did not want to preside over the elections while being a candidate.

the job which pays 90c per hour. Mrs. Martha Houghwot, Russell, was a guest of her nephew, Willis Wentworth and family, last Saturday and Sunday.

155 AVAILABLE, 438 NEW LICENSES ASKED

Harrisburg, Oct. 10—State Liquor Control Board figures show that applications for liquor and beer licenses are nearly three times greater than the number available.

Some 438 applications have been received, the board said, compared to the 155 new licenses available under population gains shown by the 1950 census.

The census is connected with the issuance of liquor and beer licenses in that retail licenses are limited by law to one for each 1,000 population.

Of the 438 applicants, 279 are for restaurant liquor licenses, 125 for club liquor, 25 for restaurant beer and nine for club beer.

Star Farmer of '51 Young Kansas Man With Fine Record

Kansas City, Oct. 10—P—Harold DeWayne Hodgson is only 21 but he's already written an American success story on the bleak hill land of northwest Oklahoma.

In 1949 he married his high school sweetheart and borrowed enough money to buy a rundown farm.

Yesterday he was named the 1951 star farmer of America.

The honor is the top award of the Future Farmers of America organization. A check for $1,000 goes with it. The award is presented annually at the FFA convention.

Hodgson bought his 320-acre farm for $8,500. Now it's valued at $14,400. His livestock investment totals about $10,000. Farm machinery, buildings, and other equipment runs about $7,200.

The Oklahoman has the land raising good crops of wheat and sorghums and providing pasture for purebred Herefords.

It was a lot different when Hodgson and his bride first moved on the farm. The barn was little more than an old wreck. The house had been used as a granary. Weeds almost hid it.

The young couple remodeled the house, built a barn and started a land improvement program.

The hard work brought results. Hodgson is a modest redheaded youth who doesn't talk a lot about his farming ability. He gives much of the credit for his success to his pretty 20-year-old wife, Lilian.

The couple start their working day at 5 a. m. Sometimes—like during the wheat harvest—they're still working at 9 p. m. Their farm is near Freedom—Freedom, Okla.

Review of 28th At Camp Atterbury To Be Held Oct. 26th

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Oct. 10—The final full war-strength review of the officers and enlisted men of the 28th Infantry Division, originally scheduled for Saturday, October 27, 1951, on the Division Air Strip, will be held Friday afternoon, October 26, at 2:15 p. m. (C.S.T.); it was announced today by Major General Daniel B. Strickler, commanding general.

Reviewing officer for the ceremonies will be General Mark W. Clark, Chief of the Army Field Forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Virginia.

The "Bloody Bucket" Division, ordered into active military service on September 5, 1950, will stage its final parade and review as it prepares to depart sometime next month for an overseas assignment in the European Command as part of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact Army.

Governors of Pennsylvania and Indiana and former commanders of the "Keystone" Division, the former Pennsylvania National Guard organization, as well as other high-ranking military and civilian guests, have been invited to witness the Review.

The Review is open to the families and friends of the troops and to the general public, an occasion which will see the 28th soldiers in mass formation for the last time prior to their overseas departure.

ANYWAY, LET'S NOT TREMBLE

When the White House announcement of the first Russian atomic explosion was made two years ago, it was greeted with some skepticism.

There were those who doubted we could tell at this distance whether or not the Russians had exploded anything involving atomic energy. Others felt that if there had been an explosion it might have been accidental.

Many months later, when the story of our detection methods finally was told, it became clear that the skepticism was unwarranted. The techniques employed by top U. S. scientists in detecting atomic activity anywhere on the earth are regarded as virtually foolproof. They felt, their 1949 tests were conclusive.

The scientists had neatly disposed of the "accidental explosion" theory right from the start. They had staked their reputations on the statement that "if this (Russian) explosion was not an atomic bomb, then none of us can conceive what it might have been."

Now the White House has announced a second Soviet atomic burst. Again, we must accept their carefully compiled evidence as convincing. The question this time is: What light does it shed on the present status of Russia's A-bomb program?

Though the information gained from spies like Klaus, Fuchs enabled the Communists to build a bomb much sooner than expected, it is unlikely they were equipped either technically or in materials to match American progress in this field. Most guesses are that they have been making about 25 to 30 conventional A-bombs a year since 1949.

The new explosion has led to the immediate conclusion, however, that sufficient advances have now been made to allow the Soviet technicians to branch out into more specialized uses of atomic energy. In other words, there is a feeling this means Russia, like the U. S., is beginning to supply atomic force to tactical weapons and perhaps guided missiles.

This may very well be a correct conclusion. Certainly we cannot assume that we alone are capable of atomic progress. There is nothing terribly mysterious about elements of the atomic bomb.

Of course, it is not beyond the realm of possibility that Russia has exploded a second conventional A-bomb simply for its propaganda value—knowing that this would give rise immediately to a reassessment by the free world of its whole defensive position, knowing that the results might be resurgence of timidity in the less firm-minded Western countries.

Yet the safer judgment is to assume the Soviet Union has really reached the point where it can experiment with advanced atomic weapons. Even if we accept that, there is no need for tremors of fear. Everything indicates we are still far ahead of Russia in atomic weapons both as to quantity and as to quality and variety. One more explosion on the dreary steppes of Russia cannot alter that advantageous situation.

WHILE IN WARREN COUNTY IT'S PUMPKIN TIME

Warren county's hills are a blaze of color, it is harvest time, and you can smell tangy ketchup and chili sauce odors from farm kitchens even as you drive through the countryside. But far away, and yet not too far away to touch the daily lives of each one of us, the status of the Korean truce talks still lies shrouded in the fog of unknown Communist purposes.

Yet there is nothing unclear about the bloody fight that has raged for weeks up and down the slopes of Heartbreak Ridge in North Korea.

There American and French soldiers are fighting and dying as they have done throughout this shambles of a war. G. I.'s are exhibiting the tenacity and the hard competence that stamps U. S. forces in Korea as the most professional army this country has ever fielded.

No one can yet foresee the final outcome. But this much is certain: while these men fight, holding their ground or inching forward, they deny to communism the longed-for fruits of aggression.

Let it not be said, then, that any conflict which does this much is a "useless" war. And let no one at home in Warren county or any other place in the United States, thousands of miles from the sound of shot and shell, complain that he is "tired of the Korean war."

To the Marines and the Army men on Heartbreak Ridge, this attitude is frail support. Until those boys have gained their well-earned rest, it is unbecoming for any comfortably placed homebody to advertise his weariness over the whole affair.

... and where do you suppose the above appeared? In the most recent issue of The Warren Retaller, put out by the retailers' committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce. Ben Kinnear is chairman of that committee; do you suppose he's taken up poetry as a side line?

Nat Drake, Chamber secretary, brings in a note from H. M. Jones, Quakana, Mich., which reads: "Please send me a copy of your newspaper. Will say I was raised in Warren, and I'm now 93 years and four months old."

Did someone mention pie? Tuesday, at just the opportune moment before lunch time, in walked a nice young girl carrying one of the most beautiful pies you've ever seen! It was coconut cream, and came from the pie ovens at Nick's Restaurant. Thank you, Nick.

Now here's a contribution from a former Warren countian, E. B. Campbell, 2001 Sixteenth St., N. W., Washington, D. C.: "Young folks think I'm old at seventy-three, but I'm just as young as I can be. I like to read and dance and so I like TV and radio; enjoy the game of contract, too and movies, tho' good ones are few. But some things sort of bother me, a needle's eye's too small to see. Print in books is just too fine and names escape me all the time. I like a dance that's smooth and slow—a dreamy waltz of long ago, but the jitterbug I can't abide; it's wild and so undignified. Sometimes when I am eating out, my dentures start to jump about; my hearing's real good, I know, it's just that people speak too low. So now you all can plainly see how young I am at seventy-three!"

It's almost time to again have those pancakes for breakfast, meaning another gridiron season in full swing. When was it in some restaurant around the area we saw on the menu an invitation to "eat all the griddle cakes you can stow away" for some not-too-high remuneration.

Speaking of pie, how many of you remember those wonderful apple creations which Mrs. Minnie S. Smith used to turn out when she catered for service club and other organization luncheons and dinners at the Y. M.?

Delving into old Mirror files of 24 years ago, we learn in the Ramblings of October 10, 1927, that Paul Mead, Bill Mulvey and Mc-Nally are coming home from Pitt for a weekend; that Jack Eggleston is growing a beard in preparation for the Warren St. Joseph's Cadets' game with Johnsonburg; that Mush Kaitenbach, our record picker of that far-off day, chose Paul Whiteman's "Five Step" as best of the week; that Bunny Morton and Hank Burrows of Kinzua, were noted enjoying a matinee at the Library; and then there is an enlightening letter all about Kitz Rice from his room mates in Morgan Hall, Devil's Kitchen, Williamstown, Mass. Ah, Time, we wouldst clip thy wings, pick out every feather!

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★
Seaway Proponents Must Overcome Rails' Opposition

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's proposal that his government alone build the St. Lawrence River seaway has done more to stimulate American interest in this project than anything yet. The feeling is that if this is a good thing for Canada, the United States should be in on it.

There is small chance that anything will happen in a hurry. Congress is too anxious to go home. But the new bill introduced in the House by Minnesota Democrat John Blatnik will be high priority unfinished business when the lawmakers return in January. The Blatnik bill would authorize joint Canadian-American construction of the $818 million project. About $300 million would be for locks and ship channel around the St. Lawrence rapids, the rest for power.

There is no question about Canadian ability to finance this undertaking alone. The Canadian government has a $500 million surplus which could be utilized on the ship channel. Ontario's Hydroelectric Commission could easily finance the power development.

A Canadian Crown corporation could also be formed to handle financing of both projects. It has been estimated that ship tolls would more than pay for $20 million annual maintenance charges, liquidating the entire capital investment in a 50-year period.

POWER development is also self-liquidating. With defense production requiring a 40 per cent expansion of American electric power development in the next three years, every kilowatt counts. If the Federal government isn't authorized to take part in the St. Lawrence development, Ontario Hydro and New York State Power Authority can do it jointly. This was the plan which Gov. Thomas E. Dewey proposed last year, but Federal Power Commission turned it down in December.

The U. S. Congress has one more chance to bring the American government in on the act. The St. Lawrence project has been kicking around since 1921. The Canadian-American treaty on the project, negotiated in President Herbert Hoover's term, was signed in 1932. It has been awaiting ratification ever since.

In tracing the record of defeats, opposition to the St. Lawrence project is seen to come from three principal sources. First and most powerful of the opponents are the three big eastern railroads—New York Central, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. Through their connecting lines, this influence has been traced to opposition which comes from southern and western railroads.

RAILROAD opposition has not been applied so much through direct Washington lobbying as through indirect pressure on local chambers of commerce, conferences of shippers, and industries which depend on railroad support.

In tracing various congressional committee votes on St. Lawrence legislation, it has been found that most of the votes against the enemy come from districts where there are major railroading interests.

Chicago Association of Commerce stood on the sidelines of the dispute for many years, though many Chicago banking, industrial and shipping leaders have been for it. But a committee on transportation made up of railroad men in the organization has consistently been able to impose the railroad view in the association's policy statements.

Railroad opposition has also been reflected in policy statements of the Railway Labor Brotherhoods and John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers. The argument advanced here is that the St. Lawrence seaway would take jobs away from railroad workers and coal miners. Finally, Boston, New York and other eastern seaboard port authorities, dependent on railroads for most of their freight traffic, have taken a stand against possible competition from the seaway.

Until all this potent opposition can be overcome, the St. Lawrence project doesn't stand much chance of getting anywhere.

What happened to the Blue Plate Special?

You don't have to be very ancient to remember when you could go into any number of restaurants and find a "blue plate special," with all the fixin's, for half a dollar... or less.

Today you can get a meal as good and as filling but it will probably cost twice as much. But don't blame the restaurant manager or chef for the high prices on today's menus. Blame the dollar! It just won't buy what it used to.

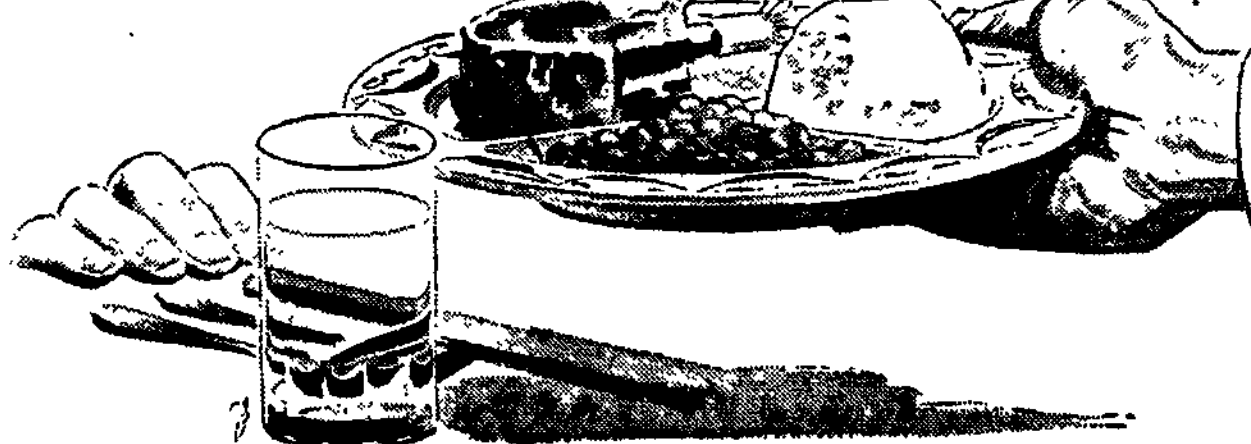

The dollar is making things mighty tough for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses... and just like the cost of food and household supplies for you.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value day by day.

Even if it should cost more, telephone service... in comparison with other things... would still be a big, big bargain.

Players' Director Is Possessed of Varied Experience

Beatrice Trax, who is directing "Good Housekeeping" for the Players Club opening production on October 18-19, has had experience with many phases of amateur theatre work in Warren.

Bea was director of "Pot Luck" and assistant director of "The Importance of Being Earnest". She was a member of the casts of "The Lady Has Ideas," "Dear Ruth," "The Pot Boiler," "The Late George Apley" and "My Sister Helen." She has done costumes and other backstage work on several other shows. When she isn't busy at the nightly rehearsals for next week's play, Bea is occupied at home caring for her small daughter, Becky.

Mary Helen Johnson, the assistant director, who has been active with the Players Club in almost every capacity since her appearance in "A. Wilderness" in 1941, has been called to California by the illness of her mother. Her work in preparations for the show was most helpful and it is hoped she will soon be able to return.

Box office for "Good Housekeeping" will continue all this week. Membership cards or the price of a season membership should be mailed to Box 563, along with a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Orders will be taken Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, October 16-17, from 7:00 until 9:00, by calling 776 and the box office will be open during the same period in the foyer of the Woman's Club auditorium.

PRE-SCHOOL CLUB
Pre-School Child Study Club members held their second meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Donald McCurdy, Canton street. During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Fred Wendelboe, routine reports were given by the secretary and treasurer and plans were made for preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family.

Mrs. Russell Templeton, who was appointed chairman, reported on a joint meeting of all mothers' clubs to be held February 21, 1958, at the YWCA.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. A. A. Grant, of Sugar Grove, who gave an enlightening talk on "Sex Education and Human Growth." She illustrated her remarks with picture posters, books and specimens, concluding with a forum.

At the close of the program, lunch was served by the committee. Mrs. Robert Jewell, Mrs. Robert Reynolds, Mrs. Floyd Kuhre and Mrs. McCurdy.

PRE-SCHOOL CLUB

At a meeting of the Pre-school Mothers Club held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Wyman, 4 Myrtle street, the project for the year was discussed and it was decided to have a bake sale some time this month, members to be notified of the date. All were asked to bring to the next meeting children's used winter garments, in good condition, to be given to a charitable agency in town.

Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, assistant probation officer for Warren county, gave a fine talk on her work, explaining "we are ambassadors of good will and not police-women." Hostesses for this month were Mrs. Wyman, Mrs. James Holmberg, Mrs. Braddock Elmquist, Mrs. Dorman Lineman.

STUDY CLUB PANEL

Members of the Young Mothers Study Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Cressett for their October session. After a short business meeting, one of the most lively and interesting programs of the club's history was enjoyed in the form of a panel discussion on "Our Children's Problems."

Members submitted questions pertaining to mental, physical, religious and disciplinary problems encountered in training of preschool children and expert opinions were supplied by Dr. Arthur Colley, pastor of First Methodist church; E. A. Chase, of Warren State Hospital staff; Dr. L. J. Borger, pediatrician, and Mrs. F. W. Bathurst, kindergarten teacher. Assisting hostesses for this October meeting were Mrs. Robert Porter and Mrs. Frank Cruickshank.

YOUNGVILLE GROUP HAS RELIEF PROJECT

At a meeting of the Youngville Dorcas ladies of the Seventh Day Adventist church, held at the home of Mrs. Shollenberger at Wrightsville, members spent the day packing seven boxes of blankets, sheets, pillows and other bedding to be sent to Kansas flood victims. There is still great need for winter clothing, the workers report, and anyone having either adults' or children's clothing is asked to call Youngville 53032.

Keep Looking Ahead, Men—
That's What the Gals Want

HERE'S a tip for you men—particularly you men of middle age. And it comes from no less a lady-killer than Ezio Pinza, the 59-year-old grandfather and matinee idol.

Said Mr. Pinza, in a recent interview: "A man should be forward-looking. If you look back you are lost. If a man says to his wife, 'Wasn't that a beautiful time we had yesterday?' that is no good. Instead, he must say, 'Won't tomorrow be beautiful?'"

Take it to heart, men. The gentleman is right. We women don't want you looking back.

When we come out in a new dress, we certainly don't want you saying: "You used to look so pretty in blue. Why don't you ever wear blue any more?" (The answer, of course, is that blue isn't becoming any more, else we'd be wearing it—be certain of that.) We don't want to know what we used to look pretty in. How do we look right now in this new dress that you'll be paying for next month?

When we change a hair-do, the same thing goes. Don't tell us you liked it better in a long, glamor bob. Maybe we've outgrown the glamor girl phase. How do you like us "as is"? That's what we want to know.

NEVER MIND "GOOD OLD DAYS"
AND those wonderful first years of marriage when life was gay and carefree—let's quit looking back on them so fondly.

How are we going to spend today and what plans have we got for tomorrow and even the next year?

Of course, we don't want you looking back, because we can't go back. Sure, you fell in love with a girl, but you're now married to a woman. And what she is interested in is not the girl who was but the woman who is.

And that is what she wants you to be interested in, too.

CORYDON GRANGE

Corydon, Oct. 10 — Corydon Grangers report an estimated crowd of 50 persons attending the Harvest Supper served Monday evening following the routine meeting conducted by the worthy master. An appropriate program was presented by Mrs. Audrey Duntley and the following served as the supper committee: Mrs. Clyde LaDow, Mrs. Margaret Ruth and a number of others. In attendance from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Peck, Warren; Mrs. John Reid, Oil City; and a number from Willow Creek.

TWO-TO-FOUR CLUB

There was a large crowd for the regular meeting of the Two-to-Four Club at the YWCA activities building, when hostesses for dessert were Mrs. Ervin Rader, Mrs. Dwight Silke, Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Collins and Mrs. John Rapp.

Mrs. Weston Ensworth introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Harold Stohl, who gave a very interesting talk on winter bouquets and how to make them. She had table arrangements made up in illustration and these were used on all the serving tables.

WELFARE DEPT. ASKS PENNA. WEEK ACTION

Harrisburg, Oct. 10.—The State Welfare Department wants all Pennsylvanians to coordinate their mental health and child guidance activities during October 15-21 with the observance of Pennsylvania Week.

"Because the field of prevention is comparatively new it is all the more important to inform our citizens of its functions and services, and during the observance of Pennsylvania Week we have an excellent opportunity," Secretary William C. Brown said in a statement.

neighbors talking about the turkey dinner to be served tonight in the Lander Community House. Abigail became so agitated over the whole thing, she just abandoned the house entirely and went outside to dig up the gladioli bulbs. Later, when she did get the line, she got the State Police by mistake and that upset her so much she just had to take a little peach brandy and she took three good tumbler instead of a half one. Now she fears she won't get to the turkey supper because Maggie made that brandy and sure enough, Maggie is going to recognize the symptoms!

About one-tenth of a minute after six the phone rang and Mrs. Carrie R. Sager, 9 Dartmouth street, said: "That's Don McComas in your 'Who Is It?' He's my neighbor and I recognized him right away." Mrs. Dick Schumacher was next closely followed by Arthur Dickinson, and the phone jangled away until almost 8 p. m. Mrs. Leota Hoover of the State Hospital, and L. A. Webster figured it was a description of George Geracimos and were sure of it when they determined his address was 12 Hertz. But it was Don McComas, 22 Central another some other day.

Band Uniform Tag Days Announced By Music Boosters

Tag Days for the benefit of Warren High School Band's new uniforms, sponsored by the Warren Music Boosters, will be held on the streets of the borough tomorrow afternoon and evening and Saturday morning.

Members of the Warren Music Boosters have planned their operations carefully and are hopeful that these two days will, with the whole-hearted cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Public, result in a large sum of money being raised for the new band uniforms.

Headquarters for the Tag Day Committee, headed by Mrs. W. S. Loding, will be set up in the offices of the West Penn Oil Company at Third and Liberty streets. On Friday tags will be sold from 5 until 9 p. m. and on Saturday they will be offered for sale from 8 a. m. until noon. The sale on Friday will be largely conducted by members of the High School Musical groups while Saturday's sale will be in charge of students in the Deady School Band.

The Tag Day Committee is making four incentive awards for the two-day sale: an award on Friday to the boy and girl who turns in the most amount of cash and a similar award to the boy and girl for Saturday's sales.

The Music Boosters Tag Day Committee, in charge of the two-day sale, consists of Mrs. W. S. Loding, chairman; the Mrs. Esther Atkins, Harold Bengston, L. M. McConnell, Florence Stevens, Howard Boyd, Mrs. L. B. Carr, Mrs. Chris Pepke, and Mrs. Claud Barlowe. Also Mrs. A. C. Chapman, C. P. Barker, Clayton Bannion, Charles Bergman, John Mong and G. M. Ostergard. These ladies will be at Tag Day Headquarters each day throughout the hours of the sale to assist the students in every way possible and to keep records of contributions resulting from the sale of tags.

Early reports received by the Patrons Letter Committee, headed by Chester Park, indicate that the recipients of letters, mailed last weekend, have taken this appeal to heart and are beginning to respond generously. While not nearly as many replies have been received, the early returns indicate that those who have replied realize that substantial contributions must be made to underwrite the $6,000 investment in the new band uniforms.

The High School Band will appear in their attractive, new uniforms for the first time on Saturday. The occasion will be the Warren-Bradford football game at War Memorial Field. Appropriate band exercises and maneuvers will be staged by the band during the half-time period and Director Harry S. Summers has promised the public an unusual musical extravaganza to mark the occasion.

CLASSIFIED ADS accepted until 11 a. m. on day of publication.

DISCRIMINATION TO END, SAYS SPEAKER

State College, Oct. 10.—(P)—A noted anthropologist said today efforts to end discrimination against Negroes in America are gaining headway fast.

"The whole progress of race relations in the case of the American Negro has been a progressively improving one," Dr. George P. Murdock told a labor education conference.

It is bound to continue to improve, he said, "not as rapidly as the idealists would like, but it is fundamentally a very optimistic situation."

The Yale University professor spoke before a human relations conference sponsored jointly by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) and Pennsylvania, State College.

Glade, Pleasant To Further Organize For Civil Defense

For the purpose of further organizing civil defense for District 12 of Warren county, which comprises Pleasant and Glade townships, a meeting was held in the Pleasant Township Fire Department and called to order by C. W. Zinger, District 12 director. Various division chiefs were present as well as the Advisory Council and William Olney, assistant director for Glade township.

The director outlined, in full, the procedure to follow in appointing the various assistant wardens, auxiliary police and auxiliary fire police as well as their duties and responsibilities. Mr. Zinger then gave a very interesting talk on the importance of Civil Defense. He painted a mental picture of the critical targets of the United States, the thousands of miles of border lines that have to be protected, the geographical location of Warren county in relation to these targets and the different routes the supposed enemy might follow in case of attack, also the danger on account of the tremendous speed of the Air Force and the atom bomb in the hands of the supposed enemy, as well as fire bombs and sabotage.

He also pointed out the benefits of well organized Civil Defense and the disadvantage of poorly or not-at-all organized Civil Defense of the various counties during World War II. Mr. Zinger stressed the danger of the propaganda that has been spread in the past and is being spread at present in the United States against organization of thorough Civil Defense. "The supposed enemy well knows that the more thoroughly we organize Civil Defense, the harder it will be for them to make a successful attack or invasion so it is natural for them to spread this propaganda," he said. He pointed out that there is a job for every loyal American in the Civil Defense set-up and should an enemy attack occur, it will be against all the American people. William Olney, assistant director, then gave a report on the organization of Glade township. After a general discussion, the meeting was adjourned.

Sealing operations on the Pribilof Islands, Alaska, netted 60,000 tons in 1950, about 10,000 fewer than in 1949.

Giants, With Backs to the Wall, Must Beat Yanks Today or Else

New York, Oct. 10.—Flexing their muscles after the 13-1 slaughter at the Polo Grounds, the aroused New York Yankees closed in for the kill today with Vic Raschi (21-10) primed to face Dave Koslo (10-9) of the Giants in the sixth World Series game at Yankee Stadium. Once more Leo Durocher's desperate Giants had their backs to the wall, a most familiar position. Trailing 3-2 in games, they couldn't afford to lose any more and the Yanks were 9 to 5 favorites to close it out in six.

Against Brooklyn in the playoff, the Giants bounced back in the dramatic finale. But they seem to have lost their bounce since Sunday's rainy interruption.

Durocher chose Koslo, a 31-year-old left-hander, for his do-or-die effort. He gambled and won with Dave against Allie Reynolds in the opening game at the Stadium. Passing up Jim Hearn, the third game winner, he pinned his hopes on cool Koslo to keep them popping up in the spacious Yankee home park.

If Koslo can do it again, the Giants will have a fighting chance for survival. If he fails they can pack up and go back home to dream of Bobby Thomson's payoff homer in the playoffs.

Much of the sheen of Thomson's famous homer was rubbed off yesterday in the Giants' final Polo Grounds appearance. Groggy and numbed after a 12-hit Yankee bombing that included a grand slam homer by rookie Gil McDougald and a "Chinese" homer by little Phil Rizzuto, they surrendered meekly.

Larry Jansen, twice a loser in the series, had shoddy backing. Still he hurt himself with four walks and that home run ball to McDougald, the 22-year-old kid from San Francisco.

By the time the Yanks finished touching up Monty Kennedy, George Spencer and Al Corwin, Durocher had to call on a gent named Alex Konikowski, late of Ottawa, to finish. It didn't matter much then to the 47,530 fans, most of whom had departed long ago.

Why are the Yanks leading? It's as simple as the batting averages. Of 85 Giant hits, 20 are concentrated in Monte Irvin (.550) and Al Dark (.429). The others are sad news.

Bobby Brown (.357) is showing his usual October form. Rizzuto (.333) has the most hits of any Yankee, seven. Young McDougald (.316) is hitting in the clutches. And Joe DiMaggio (.298) is making a fine recovery from a 12 to 0 start.

The Yanks have scored 25 runs, the Giants 16. The Yanks have a .247 team average, the Giants .220. The Yanks have five home runs, the Giants two. Add two late pitching jobs by Lefty Ed Lopat and a fine comeback by Allie Reynolds and you have enough reasons.

Shattuck Is Getting Headline at State

The current issue of the Penn State Alumni News carries a front-page picture of Warren's Ted Shattuck, with the caption, "Leading Ground Gainer."

And Ted is living up to the billing. He counted a net gain of 161 yards in Penn State's first game against Boston University, and added a net gain of 66 yards against Villanova last weekend. Last Saturday's gain might have been considerably more except for the fact that Shattuck suffered a slight concussion in the third quarter and had to leave the game. In addition to his ground gaining efforts, Ted also scored Penn State's first TD in the second quarter. Rados threw a screen pass to Shattuck that was good for nine yards to the Villanova 47. Then Shattuck got beyond the safety man, caught another Rados pass on the 20 and galloped for the touchdown with plenty to spare. Villanova, however, won the seesaw battle, 20 to 14.

Middlecoff Wins Kansas City Open

Kansas City, Oct. 10.—P.—Cary Middlecoff nabbed the Kansas City Open title to wind up the PGA's summer golf tournament tour as the nation's No. 2 money winner. The tall Tennessee dentist was four strokes under par in beating Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del., and Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff in the $15,000 Kansas City Open yesterday.

Middlecoff shot a 68. Douglas and Ford each had 73. Over the 8,500-yard Milburn Country Club course.

The victory, Middlecoff's sixth major success of the year, was good for $2,400 and boosted his year's earnings to $24,075.91, second only to Lloyd Mangrum who has made $26,088.83.

Charles Faces First Big Comeback Test

Both were knocked out in their last fights. Charles lost his heavyweight crown to aging Jersey Joe Walcott via a seven round knockout. Layne was flattened by Rocky Marciano in six rounds.

Chapter 20

JOHNNY couldn't help showing a certain amount of admiration as they were introduced. Irma was cute. She was cute and she was redheaded, with a small, shapely figure and the straight shoulders of a dancer. She had changed now from her dancing costume, but the sleek-fitting dress, Johnny thought, did intriguing things to her figure.

Steve ordered the girl a drink. At the same time, he felt that the occasion called for another complete round for themselves.

He put his arm around Irma's shoulders, turned his head and said to Nancy, "Isn't she lovely? Isn't she a lovely girl?"

Nancy smiled. The routine seemed to be the same with the reporter. She was worried that Steve Eggers was getting too drunk and might say something about the murder, and Johnny's connection with it.

Irma giggled. "Steve says the craziest things." Johnny said, "Sure, you're lovely. You're lovely and you're cute."

They all had another drink. A man—a good-looking man, paused beside their table and said, "Nancy!" And then, "How about a dance?"

you and Jeannette were good friends?"

"She isn't here tonight," said the dancer.

Steve sipped at his drink and managed to look vague. "You mean, she was fired?"

"Oh, no! She quit." Suddenly the dancer's hand was on the reporter's arm. "And, Steve—I'm worried!"

"About what?" "Her!" "Who?"

"Jeannette, of course!" "Oh," said Steve, pretending to pick up the thought again. "The hell with her. I came to see you. You're cute."

"I really am worried about her, Steve," the girl continued. "Remember that man we saw waiting outside in the car the other night—the one I pointed out to you?"

The reporter tried to get to have some difficulty remembering. "Who?" he asked.

"What's wrong with you? You know, we were sitting out there a moment in a car, and then this man drove into the parking area and sent the attendant in to get Jeannette. He always does that. He was tall and dark, remember?"

"I'm not sure," said Steve. "Well," the girl raced on, "just last night Jeannette was telling me that if he asked for her, I was to say that she wasn't here."

"Who?" prodded the reporter. "That man! He called himself George Bent. But if you ask me, that wasn't his real name at all. He always waited outside. Like I say, And, believe me, those kind of reports are hard to get to that doesn't want to be seen with a girl."

"You said it, honey," Steve said with affection, patting her hand again. Then, "You don't know who he was?"

"It just told you that!" said Irma with some impatience. "And I'm worried about Jeannette—her going away so suddenly and all, after what she told me last night about not wanting to see him if he asked for her—" something if they continued the questioning further.

IRMA was absorbed talking to Johnny when the reporter called the waiter. Johnny saw Steve scribble something on a piece of paper and hand it to the waiter before the man started back to the service bar. Irma was still occupied with Johnny. He thought perhaps she'd like to dance with her. She had a very lovely figure. He was feeling the drinks now.

The waiter returned with the order and said, "Mr. Eggers?"

The reporter looked up. "Your newspaper just phoned, sir. They said it was quite important. An uncle of yours has just been taken to the hospital."

Steve bounced out of his seat. "Uncle Ben!" He looked grief-stricken as he spoke to Irma. "Gosh, baby, I'm sorry about this. I'll have to leave at once."

And to Johnny, "You can drive me right back, can't you, fellow?"

"Of course," said Johnny. He paid the check and tipped the waiter.

He gave the private investigator a quick nod above the girl's head and they started out. In the lobby they met Nancy just returning from the dance floor with her acquaintance.

Johnny made quick apologies, and the three of them left. They found a cab driver dozing behind the wheel of this hack, his chin buried in his collar. The heater was turned on in the cab and the man had lowered the window beside him a little.

It was still snowing. "Why the sudden exodus?" Johnny asked.

Johnny said, "And having the waiter pull that old gag about Uncle Ben! What's up, Steve?"

As the cab bumped over snow ruts onto the main road, Steve explained, "I think I picked up a lead from Irma's remark about that guy. Anyway, we'll soon know!"

"Where are we going?" asked Nancy. "To the morgue," the reporter announced. (To be continued)

What's the fastest-growing line of trucks in America?

LOOK around you—in cities, on farms, at terminals and loading docks—wherever goods are moved on wheels.

More and more, the pay load's packed on a GMC.

You see those letters on medium and heavy Diesels, the most economical workers in their field. For GMC means first in Diesel power.

You see gasoline-powered GMC's front-running the highways of America—pace-setting delivery of the necessities of peace and war.

You see nimble bantamweights of the family—the highest-powered ½- to 2-tonners made—outpulling, outhauling every other truck in their class.

Ever wonder why GMC is gaining a greater percentage of the industry than any other truck-maker?

Ask the truck drivers themselves.

See the confident way they talk of the power plants, the broad-shouldered chassis—the way a GMC handles.

Ask about the tons they've hauled, the miles they've logged—the nip-and-tuck schedules they've licked time and again.

Ask these cost-wary haulers why they've made GMC the fastest-growing fleet in the land.

They'll tell you it's because GMC is the finest motor truck made.

If you'll come in, we'll show you why we think they're right.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

When the American Contract Bridge League held its national championships in Washington a couple of months ago, most of the best players came from far and wide to put in a bid for the coveted top honors. Howard Schenken, of New York, didn't win any events this year, but he made enough sparkling plays to let the assembled experts know that his hand had lost none of its skill. Schenken played the South cards of the hand shown today in the team championships. It was typical of him that he practically apologized for making the right play, while the expert who held the South hand at the other table completely overlooked the play that would clinch the slam contract. At both tables West opened the ace of spades. Schenken then announced almost apologetically that he would take the safety play. Just for the fun of it, work it out for yourself. At the second trick, Schenken laid down the ace of hearts. Since East failed to follow suit, Schenken continued by finessing through West's queen. His jack of hearts was covered by West's queen and won by dummy's king. A third round of trumps fell to declarer's ten, and now it was safe to begin on the diamonds. West could ruff whenever he liked, but that was the only trick the defenders could take.

Students Watch Quick Stops

SAFETY DEMONSTRATION—Warren High School students line curb of Second avenue to watch demonstration of distances required to stop a car traveling at speeds of 20 and 30 miles per hour. Warren high school students jammed the Second avenue section between Market and Liberty street yesterday to watch a convincing demonstration of the distance required to stop a car traveling 20 and 30 miles per hour.

The demonstration was conducted by representatives of the driver training education division of the Atlantic Refining Company.

Student drivers were at the wheel of the cars for the tests, which showed the distance the car traveled during reaction time to a signal to stop, the distance the car traveled after first application of the brake, and the total braking distance.

Girls were chosen from driving tests last week to operate the car during the demonstration of stopping distance required at 20 miles per hour. Results were as follows: Geraldine Aquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan J. Aquist, of 2 Cottage Place: reaction distance, 12 ft. 8 in.; braking distance, 19 ft. 5 in.; total stopping distance, 32 ft. 1 in.

Nancy Valentine, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Valentine, Cobham Park road: reaction distance, 13 ft. 1 in.; braking distance, 22 ft. 2 in.; total stopping distance, 35 ft. 3 in.

Both girls were under the national average of 37 ft., compiled during the extensive Atlantic Refining tests.

Two boys were picked for tests at 30 miles per hour. Results were:

Gail Ledebur, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ledebur, 103 Church street, North Warren: reaction distance, 18 ft. 6 in.; braking distance, 38 ft.; total stopping distance, 56 ft. Gail was under the national average of 85 feet.

Robert Burgeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Burgeson, 11 Willey street: reaction distance, 20 ft. 8 in.; braking distance, 54 ft. 3 in.; total stopping distance, 75 ft. 1 in.

At an assembly in the high school auditorium following the demonstration, Ralph Thomas, of the Atlantic traffic safety department, pointed out that the tests were conducted under ideal conditions, and that each driver had been informed of what he was to do, and that these conditions would not prevail under normal driving in traffic.

He emphasized that when the tail light shows on the car ahead, that motorist is already at the point of braking, while the driver behind still has to travel the full reaction distance and the actual stopping distance.

Thomas also pointed out that the distance needed to stop a car at 40 miles an hour is not twice that required at 20 miles per hour but is four times greater.

SCORDO, FORMER KANE ATHLETE, IS HONORED

Pat Scordo, former Kane High athlete, was recently honored when he was named to first All America High School track team by "Scholeastic Coach", magazine.

Graduating from Kane High School last spring, Scordo took the district and state javelin championships, and will be remembered by many Warren track fans for the fine field performances he has given.

He is now enrolled at the University of Pittsburgh, ranking as last year's second best schoolboy javelin thrower in the country.

Don E. Mills of Medford, Ore., is the only one to have topped Scordo's 184 feet 10 inch throw, with a heave of 213 feet, six inches. Scordo is the son of Leo Scordo and the late Mrs. Loretta Pecora Scordo, and is a native of Bradford.

Strenuous Rehearsals Under Way for Optimist Club Show

Every afternoon immediately after school dismisses, over 40 girls from Warren High School troupe to The Spot at the YMCA, shed their skirts and sweaters for shorts and shirts and amid the piano playing of Mrs. Eleanor Doebler and the shouts of Director Richard F. Seward, start their daily rehearsal routines for their parts as costumed singing and dancing girls in the Optimist Club's home talent revue and minstrel, "Ridin' High," to be presented next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Warren High School auditorium.

All 75 members of the cast will appear in the opening number of the show, Sue Sheldon, Martha Edwards, Marilyn Gafner, Dot Titus, Joan Andrews, Gail McDonald, Lola Shearer and Sabe Nichols will be featured as singing and dancing airline hostesses. Appearing against a backdrop of LaGuardia Airport in New York, the girls will be costumed in smart blue jackets, white satin skirts and red overalls caps. Jean DeLong is a substitute in this kick-line.

The revue carries a theme of a transcontinental airplane flight with each stop of the theatrical voyage depicted by skits, specialty acts or the costumed dance routines. Against the setting of a Chicago alley, the Chicago Alley Kids, Anne Christensen, Susan Seg-gins, Georgine Pappas, Lella Knapp, Gail Branch, Dye Gruthrie, Norm Ellberg, Sherry Peterson, Gayle Carlson, Jeannine Kahler, Luella Wert, Anne Akers, Nancy Brooker and Janice Tucker, will represent Chicago singing and dancing to the tune "Come Over To Our Alley," a musical number especially written for "Ridin' High."

Joan White, Kathleen Schmaier, Nancy Berdine, Julie Cheronia, Irma Shearer and Shirley Barber are rehearsing as the Club Frisco Follies Girls, a high stepping kick-line appearing in the San Francisco setting of the show.

The last stop of the theatrical airplane flight is in Dixie and it is here that the second act of the show, the minstrel, is presented. The All American Girls, Sally Lannen, Mary Fowler, Maryann Odell, Nancy Eidon, Joan Angelotti, Jennie Henton, Marilyn Rudolph, Joyce Wagner and Cynthia Rasmussen, will appear in the front line of the minstrel costumed in red, white and blue gowns and will support Claire Dahlgren, tenor soloist, singing "You Tell Me Your Dream."

Director Richard Seward announced that over $4,000 worth of costumes and scenery have been transported to Warren for the production.

A. N. Valone, ticket chairman for the show, announced that over 1,500 tickets have been placed in the hands of all members of the cast and members of the Warren Optimist Club.

Proceeds from "Ridin' High" will go to the Warren Boy Choir and the youth program of the Optimist Club.
